

A New Thing
By Michael Unruh

If you've read our newsletters or heard updates elsewhere, you know that camp has constructed several new buildings in recent years. Part of this process has included tearing down the old, worn out structures so that the new ones could go up. A passage in Isaiah resonates with me as we've taken on these projects. In 43:18-19, the LORD says, "Do not remember the former things, or consider the things of old. I am about to do a new thing; now it springs forth, do you not perceive it?" The LORD's "new thing" is a promise to lead Israel out of exile from Babylon back to Jerusalem. For many, returning to Jerusalem meant "tearing down" an established life in Babylon and trusting idols or other nations for provision.

As the Christmas season gets underway, I am also reminded of the "new thing" God was doing by sending Jesus, the Word become flesh, into the world. The birth of Jesus brought joy to many people, yet others like King Herod were afraid. The arrival of Jesus threatened to "tear down" the established power structure. Jesus' followers also had to "tear down" their notions that Jesus was sent to conquer and rule an earthly kingdom and recognize that God's "new thing" was a kingdom from above.

I perceive that God is doing "a new thing" in the lives of people who come to camp. To do so, God must also "tear down" old and worn out parts. Here are just a few: 1) How the world tells us to act toward those different from us--with fear, hate, or exclusion. 2) Putting our faith in material things, political leaders, or affirmation through social media. 3) That the world says "you aren't enough the way you are."

God's "new thing" responds: 1) All people are deserving of love and inclusion. 2) God is everlasting; temporary things are not 3) You are enough exactly the way you are. This "new thing" at camp leads to growth in faith, genuine Christian relationships, and sometimes baptism. Though of course God is working all around, it is humbling to join in God's work of "tearing down" and doing "a new thing" at camp.

Dedicated Camp Family: Kauffmans
By Olivia Bartel

“Everybody needs Jesus and friends.”
--Shelley Kauffman

The Kauffman family has long been coming to Camp Mennoscah. Dan and Shelley, as well as their adult children Kayla, Keri, and Jeff, have spent many years attending church retreats, coming to summer youth camps, and volunteering. Dan first remembers coming to camp in 1977 for a family reunion, Shelley remembers her first visit being a church retreat in the early 1990s, and the three kids started attending summer youth camps as they became old enough. Kayla has been a counselor, and both Keri and Jeff have been counselors and on summer staff for multiple years. Dan and Shelley are dedicated church retreat attendees, as well as coming to Women & Girls and Men & Boys Retreats.

these themes. They talk about camp being a safe and welcoming place to love people who are both like us and not like us, and a place where you don't have to pretend to be someone else in order to be liked. It's a place where relationships with God Our Creator and with each other can be strengthened.

Camp Mennoscah is also a very special place to the Kauffmans because Kayla, Keri, and Jeff were all baptized in the Ninnescah River.

Their hopes for the future of Camp Mennoscah are that it continues to be a place where kids can get away from regular routines (and their cell phones!), a place where brokenness is accepted, and where Christ can be encountered in a very real way. Evening worship music and singing have been a sacred times for Kayla, Keri, and Jeff with other highlights including meal time goofiness and the food.

Spikeball, Jeff says, there is also Spikeball at Camp Mennoscah.

The family continues to come to Camp Mennoscah, as Keri puts it, because of “love, relationships, faith, trust, acceptance, [and] hope.” The rest of the family may phrase it differently, but their answers all circle back to

New Kitchen: Complete, Whale Playground: Complete...Where To Now?

Now that the new Whale playground and new main camp kitchen have been completed, dedicated, and are in full use, you may be wondering...what's camp going to work on next?

We still have a vision to renovate the dining hall facility, and here is a short description of what is planned:

- Complete interior of dining hall welcome area
- Incorporate breezeway space into dining hall
- Install insulation, sound dampening material, additional lighting
- Replace windows
- Install HVAC ducts/equipment
- Smooth/polish concrete floor
- New tables & chairs

The scope and budget of this project have grown since kitchen renovations began, and we will share updates on the project's total cost as soon as they become available.

We look forward to working toward this vision!
